

AN OPEN LETTER TO CHURCHES, MINISTRIES, ANY CHRISTIAN ORGANIZATION ON VAMPYRIC BLOOD
DRINKING PEOPLE

When you find yourself vampyric, there are many reasons to cry. “She held her rosary and silver crucifix in her hands as she prayed and prayed. The only sound in the little trailer most nights was of her crying alone in the dark.” Jeanine, from Rites of Passage. Vampyric people such as this have been on my heart for many, many years. I know them and I hear them when they cry.

You must now live as a blood-drinker, set apart and forever cut off from the humanity you once knew. I make sure the phrase, human yet not human – forced to live by blood alone, appears in the stories somewhere. In a nutshell, this is what true vampyric blood drinkers are.

DISCLAIMER for the Silently Series Storyline

This storyline deals with vampyric blood drinking people and includes scenes where the characters drink blood, hunt for blood, kill for blood, or shed blood. It is not our desire to promote fear yet it is human nature to have an adverse reaction to blood drinking. This is why we refer to these living people as having a vampyric medical condition. They are neither undead nor occultic. While violence may be present, it is never glorified. These people survive as best they can under difficult and bitter conditions. Any that survive any length of time become efficient predators.

We claim no responsibility to any perceived or adverse reaction to the content of this storyline or content derived from discussion of the subject matter.

There are many vampire wannabes. I am not talking about people who want to be a vampire, or who are caught in the occultic glamour, or who simply feel the pull of iniquity in the family line. I am not talking about the many human blood-drinkers, some who have a mild psychological or physiological addiction to blood.

I am talking about physically changed vampyric blood drinking people: those who are forced to drink blood to survive. Those who have no choice and no hope.

These are the people I hear crying and these are people I see in a place of darkness that you (normal people) cannot see. Any normal person can, and should, be aware of what a true vampyric blood drinker is and what they can do. I cannot say, really, exactly how or why I know what I know – but I am responsible for what I know. That is why I am writing this storyline.

The Holy Ghost specifically commanded me to come to the church with what I have to say about vampyric people. So, here I am trying to give you information you (likely) do not want to hear.

We are at the beginning of the end of days. The church will soon draw in the nations into a great net, a great end-time revival and harvest. Miracles such as you have only dreamed about and read about will occur regularly. It will be a great time. Hopefully, you will find it in your heart to love the many various types of people who will find themselves in church for the first time.

The scripture says, whatsoever fish are found in the great sea, these people will appear when the net is drawn to the shore.

Ezekiel 47:10 And it shall come to pass, that the fishers shall stand upon it from Engedi even unto Eneglaim; they shall be a place to spread forth nets; their fish shall be according to their kinds, as the fish of the great sea, exceeding many.

John 21:8 And the other disciples came in a little ship; (for they were not far from land, but as it were two hundred cubits,) dragging the net with fishes.

These people I have seen, true vampyric blood drinking people, will be among those drawn in the net since they exist in the world at large. I cannot prove what I know. I simply know what I know. Grant me the benefit of the doubt. Wait and see what shows up in your churches.

True vampyric people are lonely. The scripture says, the soul that eateth blood shall be cut off from the people.

Leviticus 7:27 Whatsoever soul it be that eateth any manner of blood, even that soul shall be cut off from his people.

This is true. Yet, because I am talking about living people in a flesh and blood body, they should have the same chance and the right to choose life and forgiveness available in God through the blood of the Lord Jesus Christ, as anyone else.

You need to know three things at this point:

The first thing you need to know is I am responsible for all true vampyric blood-drinking people. They are wolves, not sheep. They belong to me, not you. I am responsible for the words in this storyline. If blood flows down the street because I have said (written) these words then I accept that responsibility. If blood ceases or does not flow down the street because of these words, then I am responsible for that as well.

However, the choice of whether to love, or not, is yours.

The second thing you need to know is that unless you “see” them, they will not receive anything you have to say about God, love, forgiveness, or grace. Your churches and sanctuaries will be just another place to hunt, with crowds of people, as any other place.

What do I mean by “seeing?”

In the Sacrifices story, Majken was chained to a dungeon wall next to an AOG travelling preacher named Corey. She was able to move her hands and arms a little and she could hold the slain animal they tossed to her to have some blood to survive while she was awaiting sacrifice. Corey had to adjust to the fact that he was chained in a dark place next to a true vampyric blood drinking person.

Before Majken’s heart opened up to whatever Corey could tell her about the love of God and the blood of Jesus as her sacrifice and atonement of her sins, Corey had to “see” her first. True vampyric blood drinking people must drink blood to live. After a while this starts to wear on them. They come to the place where they think, Is this all that I will ever be?

To truly “see” a vampyric blood drinking person means that you see and acknowledge exactly what they have become, all that they have become, and you choose to love them anyway. Only when Majken knew that Corey saw her for what she really was, and chose to love her anyway, did her heart open to anything he would tell her about God or the atoning sacrifice of the Lord Himself on the cross and His resurrection to give us a life in Him.

The third thing you need to know about vampyric blood drinking people is that, once saved, they must continue to drink blood to survive. This is because their bodies have profoundly physically changed and adapted to drinking blood. They have gone through what they call The Change. Just because Jesus is now their Lord and Savior, they are still vampyric.

I know what you are thinking. With God nothing is impossible. True. You want to pray for them and, by some miracle, change them into a normal person where they do not have to drink blood anymore. Great. You want to fix it because drinking blood is a SIN, and you worry and fret more about the SIN than the person stuck in this condition. Church with boats on shore washing nets instead of fishing.

Majken did accept Jesus as her Lord and Savior when given the choice. Her prayer was, literally, “Lord, save me!” and He did. After this her life turned to God and she did have a new life in Him, although she could not stop drinking blood. The physical condition of her body did not let her stop. Although Beddia did everything he could to utterly destroy her because she was a follower of “The Way,” he could not. This is part of the storyline also – in the cycle of love, grace, compassion, and right with God. (Psalms 112:4)

Psalms 112:4 Unto the upright there ariseth light in the darkness: he (God) is gracious, and full of compassion, and righteous.

She is a devout Christian and she is still vampyric, even to this day.

This is where you are going to miss it. You want to pray for their healing, and they are not sick. You think they drink blood because their bodies are missing something, some substance they lack that they must acquire by drinking blood, and this is not the case. You want to cast out the devil, but you disregard they are physically changed also. You want to drag them into the light and they do not belong in the light with you. You think that every situation is right or wrong, white or black, with no shades of gray in between. Good thing you are not vampyric.

If you really want to understand them, then consider what you would do today if you needed to drink blood to survive?

Don't try to convince me that you love anyone when you are afraid. Perfect love casts out fear. If you are afraid of them, then you do not love them.

You think you are so powerful in your revelation of the Spirit that – surely – when we pray for them, the physical Change in them will somehow vanish, yet I cannot even get you to see them or like them, let alone love them.

The scripture is clear when it says,

Galations 5:6 For in Jesus Christ neither circumcision availeth any thing, nor uncircumcision; but faith which worketh by love.

When it says,

1 Corinthians 13:13 (NIV) And now these three remain: faith, hope and love. But the greatest of these is love.

When it says,

Matthew 9:29 Then touched he their eyes, saying, According to your faith be it unto you.

This is why your prayer for them will not work:

Majken said of herself in the Silently Comes The Night story – I have no choice, no hope. Hope is a container that faith can fill, because faith is the substance of the thing hoped for.

Hebrews 11:1 Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen.

Hope works with faith, like a glass that you pour water into. The water takes the shape of the glass you pour into. If you pour water onto the table with no glass, the water has no container and is spilled onto the floor.

Faith, without hope, does not have the container to collect it and give it shape. Faith without love does not have sufficient force alone, because everything in the world of light and God works only by love. Your faith, alone, will not do the job because this condition has a four thousand year head start on you.

If Majken walked up to you, held out her hand, and tried to say hello, would you at least be nice to her?

Poor misguided Christian. You do not know these people, you (apparently) only care for those who think or believe like you, and everything in darkness is evil just because it is in the darkness.

Well, I have some sad news for you. My revelation of these people comes from many years of both praying for them and seeing. I know what I know. I tell you certain specific things about vampyric people in each story. One clear message from the No Safe Haven story is what happens when vampyric people are threatened with being forced into the light. They feared, No darkness can cover us. What was true then, is true even more so today.

No darkness can cover them as no light can cover you. Your worlds are coming together.

In part, I was given in my revelation of vampyric people specific scripture. I was given Joel 2:2 which states:

Joel 2:2 A day of darkness and of gloominess, a day of clouds and of thick darkness

The last time the Lord impressed this scripture on my heart, He really emphasized the word “day.” A day of darkness, a day of gloominess, a day of clouds, a day of thick darkness.

I was also given Joel 3:14 (also known as 4:14 in the Interlinear Scripture Analyzer), Joel 3:14 (4:14) Multitudes, multitudes in the valley of decision: for the day of the LORD is near in the valley of decision.

I am not talking about someone who simply thinks they are Dracula. I am not talking about the multitudes that join a vampiric community because they think being a vampire will be cool. I am not talking about a normal human who has a demonic spirit in their head. I am not talking about the people with a broken self image, or lack of self esteem, where the enticement of being a powerful, youthful, attractive “vampire” is so alluring. I am not talking about the so-called psychic vampires, who are nothing more, really, than people with a physical manifestation of a religious spirit. (This is what religion does. It sucks the life out of everything living just to keep itself alive...) You, church of the living God, can handle all of the above tiny issues with no problem.

Physically changed blood drinkers are too dangerous for you to deal with. That is why I am telling you now, before they show up, that these people belong to me.

The way I see it, the four aspects mentioned in Joel 2:2 form the baseline of vampyric expression in the earth.

- Majken was changed under the darkness path; her biological father kept occultic runes around his neck and operated in fear all of his life.
- Her friend Stefan changed under the gloominess path, that is, iniquity in the family line. When Stefan succumbed to it, he became vampyric in the true sense.

- Stefan's intended Michelle was changed under clouds, that is, a partial conversion. This type of change, I do not advertise much.
- Midway into the storyline, Majken meets a person changed under thick darkness, which is an occultic change. This being was so different from anyone she had encountered before, he was called the "Other."

Your reaction to me, my storyline, and all of this is – it is not real and it cannot be real. People like this cannot really exist. Or, I'll believe it when you produce one of these people. Bring a vampyric person here and we will believe you. Really?

To me, that sounds like a very bad idea. Even if I could produce these people for you, I would have to pray long and hard, plus have definite confirmation from the Holy Ghost, that this is what I am allowed to do. You are not ready.

Let me give you some examples.

1. A vampyric person shows up at your door during the morning service. He or she needs blood and needs it now. What would you do?
2. Two or more vampyric people show up at your door and it is night. One has been injured, and this drives their need for blood very high. What would you do?

3. A vampyric person is in your church or ministry. He takes blood from a girl (and, since this is the PG rated version – taking blood is all he does) and this puts the girl in the hospital. What would you do?

4. A lynch mob shows up at your door because a vampyric person is known to be there. What would you do?

You are not ready. You will not be ready until you know that the answer to these four situations is really the same answer.

If you want me to somehow prove to you that people like this exist, I cannot. If you want me to quote scripture to prove they are real, I do not know enough. Mark 4:22 states that everything hidden will be revealed. Since you are going to fall off the roof anyway, do you want to fall toward the cushions and tarps or on the hard jagged rocks and construction debris?

Mark 4:22 For there is nothing hid, which shall not be manifested; neither was any thing kept secret, but that it should come abroad.

Prayerfully consider what I have told you.

The storyline, itself, is dark and does involve violence or sexual situations. I am painting a picture for you just how bleak and miserable the life of a vampyric person can be. It is clearly not a Christian story, although there is a place for love, grace, compassion, and right with God to somehow show up.

Only read the storyline if you feel led to read it.

Otherwise, simply download and read our submission guidelines for 2015. These passages, with selected excerpts from the first two stories, contain enough information for you to have a clearer picture of how vampyric people feel and how they think. The rest you can get by prayer and listening to the Holy Ghost.

Jesus explained that the fish are in the deep.

The Holy Ghost impressed Psalms 112:4 in my heart in early 2011, but I have been doing this for a very long time. I am not affected by blood drinking, I am not afraid of them, and I generally believe vampyric people should have life offered to them with everyone else.

Unto the upright, there ariseth light (where?)

In darkness. Where again? Darkness. Where? In the dark. So I tell you the story is dark. Sound to me like I am doing my job. I am pushing as hard and as fast into a revelation of darkness and blood as I can, but I am on a path of love, grace, compassion, and right with God.

I am not trying to change them. I am trying to give them another choice by changing you. If anything I have said in this letter touches your heart or causes you to pause and think “Maybe?” then simply pray and start seeking the answers for yourself. God will not lie to you.

The Holy Spirit is the Spirit of Truth.

Our wolf is howling into the night and will continue to howl until kingdom come.
